1. On 7 November 1947, the OBE (Counter-Intelligence Corps of the Czechoslovak Army) raided the officers' quarters of the garrison at Most (H51/F13). Three officers and one non-commissioned officer were arrested and charged with organizing illegal, anti-Communist, anti-Soviet groups among the officers of the Czechoslovak Army.

[Redacted] Comment: Place-name was received in garbled form as "Mos". "Most", where an Army post exists, is most likely meant.)

4. It is not yet clear what use will be made of the incident for propaganda purposes. There is a possibility that it may be played down in order to avoid weakening the case against anti-State activities in Slovakia.
